Kortex Marketplace

The Concept

Imagine a platform that puts in contact suppliers, designers, brands, small shops and big factories, where all the fabrics and waste with potential for another life are available for exchange.

How Can You Join

Please go to our website and create an account.

Then just be creative...

How Does It Works?

Our platform is the HUB that puts everybody in contact. We organize the information, log all the participants in the process and continuously add new features to the platform. You will find information about lots of materials, like fabrics, knitwear and so many others, that are available on factories and other sources. You just need to be connected, as a potential producer or consumer. Once the match is done, the transaction will be between the producer and the consumer.
